

I find it unbelievable that you would even consider trying to weaken a law that the people of Wisconsin have worked so hard to establish. This law should be a model for the every citizen in the country to protect their privacy, which is why business is trying this kind of maneuver. This is nothing more than an attempt by big business to erode a good law for their own gains. When is the last time someone told you that they enjoyed having telemarketers call at all hours of the day and night, or scamming senior citizens out of their money? Leave this bill stand and for once show the American public that government has some level of decency and concern for its people. There is NO explanation or reasoning that would even come close to justify such a move. Thank You
